

Musical Moments for Tigers and Leopards

Pick an activity at least once or twice a week, and keep music in your routine!!

Improvise a rhythm by clapping a pattern as you keep with the beat of a song. Any song will work.	Create a rhythm pattern, using quavers (1/2 beat), crotchets (1 beat) and minims (2 beats). Write it down. Practice clapping, patting or tapping it. 	Listen to a favourite song and describe it in as much detail as possible. How fast/slow and loud/soft is it? What instruments do you hear? What is it about?	Create a musical instrument out of household items such as cans, boxes, milk jugs, utensils, etc. Experiment with the different sounds it can make and the different ways you can play it.	Make a Moodle: Choose a song to listen to. Draw a picture while you listen. Show your moodle to someone and have them guess what they think the song was about.
Find a song on YouTube or Spotify that features an orchestra playing. What instruments can you hear and name?	Make up your own song and sing it to your family. You could FaceTime with a member of the family who lives far away and share the song with them too.	Find a piece of music with two sections (A and B), create different dance moves for each section. Example: The Chicken Dance!	Check out this fun music activity and guess as many string instruments as you can: https://app.seesaw.me/activities/ao2zn5/name-that-instrument-string-family	If you already play an instrument, pick it up and learn a new piece of music! If you don't, and you have an instrument in the house, challenge yourself to learn it

Explore the wonderful world of music with these websites!

One Motion: Try the Chord Player and Drum Machine.

<https://www.onemotion.com/chord-player/>

SFS Kids: Games, instrument exploration and orchestrations.

<http://www.sfskids.org/play/>

Chrome Music Lab: Create music in a variety of ways!

<https://musiclab.chromeexperiments.com/>

Rhythm Trainer: A cool game for identifying rhythms.

<http://www.therhythmtrainer.com/>

Send any work that you create to Miss Howard!
Song lyrics, pictures, recordings...
music@laleham-gap.kent.sch.uk